RESEARCH EXPERIENCES

Research Assistant, June 2018-Ongoing
Faculty Advisors: Shawna J. Lee, PhD
Healthy Start Engaged Father Program
School of Social Work, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI

The Healthy Start Engaged Fatherhood program involves working with six of the Michigan Healthy Start home visitation programs to promote father engagement. The project is funded by the Michigan Health Endowment Fund, Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, and Fatherhood Research Practice Network. I assist with developing, implementing, and evaluating the program.

Research Assistant, March 2017-May 2018
Faculty Advisors: Shawna J. Lee, PhD, and Trina Shanks, PhD
Learning Community on Poverty and Inequality
School of Social Work, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI

The Learning Community on Poverty and Inequality (LCPI) promotes opportunities to link the research, policy and service, and teaching interests of faculty for whom poverty and inequality are some of main interests of their scholarship. I assisted with organizing and facilitating LCPI events.

Research Assistant, November 2014-June 2015
Faculty Advisor: Michael Lewis, PhD
Project PRIDE: The Role of Child Neglect in Preschoolers' Emotional Regulation

Institute for the Study of Child Development (Funded by National Institute of Mental Health)
Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, New Brunswick, NJ

This project assessed how neglected children between ages 6-7 develop emotional regulation and display individual differences in a frustrating play situation. An interactive task was administered in the laboratory to measure children's facial, vocal, physical frustration, and the amount of time it took to delay gratification. I assisted with analyzing data.

Research Assistant, February-December 2014

Faculty Advisor: Geraldine V. Oades-Sese, PhD

Sesame Street Resilience Project, Little Children, Big Challenges: Divorce, Separation, and Incarceration

Research Laboratory for Resilience and Early Childhood Development

Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School, New Brunswick, NJ

This project assessed the effectiveness of the Sesame Workshop's multimedia intervention to foster healthy parent-child relationships, positive home environments, and socioemotional resilience in children with divorced, separated, or incarcerated parents. I coordinated home- and school-based participant recruitment, data collection and coding, and literature reviews.

Research Assistant, 2008-2010

Faculty Advisor: John R. Z. Abela, PhD

John Abela Institute for Research on Youth Depression (Funded by the National Institute of Mental Health)

Department of Psychology, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ

This project investigated negative attachment cognition as a moderator of the temporal association between maternal and child depression. I assisted with participant recruitment, data collection, and coding.
